Science

1. Look at this poster. This poster is giving us a warning not to allow water to stagnate in homes or around homes.

Do a survey named “Mosquito check” and make a project report on it. With someone from home, go around to check one area around your home. It must be carefully noted if water has collected anywhere. Make a note where you find stagnant water. The following questions will help you in making your project report more comprehensive.

- a) Since how many days has water collected there?
- b) Has it caused any problem in the area?
- c) Who is responsible for keeping these places clean?
- d) Who is supposed to get the gutters and drains repaired?
- e) Can any larvae be seen in the collected water?

Note: Click as many pictures as possible to capture different situations.

Follow up: Make a poster (on a chart) with a message to keep the cooler, tank, drains and the area clean (wherever water collects).

2. Make a collage of animal stamps on A4 size black coloured sheet. Also make five bookmarks with slogans on 'Save Animals'.

3. Fun-time
